4. Participants are obliged to comply with the Rules.
5. The Participant bears full responsibility towards the Organizer and third parties for any damage caused by his behavior, regardless of whether they were directly related to participation in the Contest or in any way may be related to the Contest, the Organizer or other Participants.

Copyrights

1. In the event that the Contest Task meets the criteria of a work within the meaning of the Act of February 4, 1994 on copyright and related rights (hereinafter: "Work"), then by sending the Work, the Participant confirms that:
 - a. the Work submitted by him is original;
 - b. is the result of his personal and independent creativity;
 - c. he/she is entitled to the full scope of economic and personal copyrights to the Work and these rights are not limited in any way or encumbered for the benefit of third parties. The Participant declares that the use of the Work to the extent necessary for the implementation of the Contest, as well as to the extent specified in the Rules, will not infringe the rights of third parties, including: that if the Contest Task contains images of third parties, these persons have consented to the recording of their image and its operation on the terms provided for in the Rules.

The Participant bears sole responsibility for the truthfulness of the above statements and undertakes to indemnify the Organizer and third parties in this respect.

2. The Participant declares that he agrees to the publication of the Contest Task on the Organizer's Social Media channels in order to inform about the outcome of the Contest, in particular in the form of a repost of the Contest Task on the Profile or other social networks belonging to the Organizer.
3. Upon submitting the Application, the Participant grants the Organizer a free, non-exclusive and territorially unlimited license to use the Work for an indefinite period. The Participant may terminate the license with a 3 (three) year notice period effective at the end of the year in which the Participant made a statement of termination. The granted license includes the right to sublicense. The license is granted in the following fields of exploitation:
 - a. use or dissemination of the Work in whole or in part;
 - b. permanent or temporary recording or reproduction in whole or in part using any technique, including printing, reprographic, magnetic recording and digital technology, as well as the production of copies of the Work using any technique, including printing, reprographic, magnetic recording and digital technology, and entering into the memory of a computer or other device;
 - c. developing, including modifying, translating, processing, including other works or introducing other changes;
 - d. trading in the original or copies of media on which the Work was recorded, including their resale, lending, rental or lease;
 - e. disseminating the Work, including their public performance, displaying, displaying, playing, broadcasting and re-broadcasting, as well as making them publicly available in such a way that everyone can access it at a place and time of their choice, including using the Internet or Intranet;
 - f. using the Work for marketing purposes, including placing the Work or its part on all possible advertising and information media, including cable or digital television, the Internet, in the press, on company and other printed matter, in announcements, forms, electronic presentations, branding materials, gadgets, clothes.
4. The above license grant includes permission for the Organizer to exercise the derivative rights to the Work, the Organizer's right to allow the exercise of the derivative copyright and the right to transfer this right to other persons in the fields of use indicated in this paragraph, in particular to introduce changes without the Participant's prior consent to the Works, including translation, alteration, adaptation, layout changes or any other changes and adaptations in relation to the provided Works, dividing them into parts and combining them with other works, and the use of such studies in all fields of exploitation specified in this paragraph.
5. By submitting an Application, the Participant additionally authorizes the Organizer to exercise moral rights to the Work, including:
 - a. consents to the Organizer making, without the need to obtain additional consent of the Participant, elaborations of the Work, in particular by making its changes, abbreviations and for the Organizer to use these elaborations at the Organizer's discretion;
 - b. authorizes the Organizer to decide on the first sharing of the Work, as well as making the Work available either anonymously or with the name and surname or nickname of the Participant.

and also undertakes not to exercise against the Organizer and its legal successors and entities for which the Organizer will sublicense the Contest Work, moral copyrights to the Works.

6. For the avoidance of doubt, by publishing the Contest Tasks, the Participant agrees to the Organizer's use of the submitted Work for advertising, promotional and marketing purposes using all means of communication (press, television, radio, Internet, etc.), as well as to grant sublicenses to third parties in the scope of obtained permissions.
7. If the images of the Participant or third parties have been recorded in the Contest Task, by submitting the Application, the Participant declares that the persons whose image was recorded in the Contest Task have consented to the use of this image on the same terms as the rules of exploitation of the Contest Task.
